

Frank Reneke
GVP & GM, Oracle Services

Rimini Street[®]
Engineered for Support[™]

Mr. Reneke is responsible for helping clients and prospects maximize the value of their Oracle systems. He leads a global team that articulates how companies can take control of their Oracle Roadmap by providing alternatives to the traditional support model. For the last 20 years, Mr. Reneke has been specializing in Oracle systems. During that time he provided leadership in support of global transformation projects that span everything from project assessment to post-go-live phases of large multi-year Oracle deployments. Mr. Reneke has conducted engagements that have included strategy, people, process, organization, technology and delivery, and has been the first to deliver systems in the industry numerous times around the world. He has worked directly for Oracle Corporation and for various Oracle Platinum Partners supporting Oracle software globally.
