

Retail Enterprise Software Unified Support Services

Rimini Street (NASDAQ: RMNI) is the global leader in independent, third-party enterprise software support services, having served more than 4,000 clients to date and driving $5 billion+ in client savings on total support costs.

Rimini Street Support Services for enterprise software replace traditional vendor support and enable licensees of Oracle, SAP, IBM, Microsoft, and other enterprise software to save on total software support costs and extract more value from their retail enterprise software investments so they can invest in innovation to create competitive advantage and growth.

Reach short- and long-term business objectives with the help of Rimini Street third-party unified support services

IT leaders worldwide are focused on transforming operations from a reactive, technology-driven cost center to a strategic IT organization.

But many are still at the mercy of their software vendor and vendor-dictated roadmaps: mandatory upgrade cycles to maintain full support, lock-in to immature technologies, and recurring costs associated with maintaining existing systems — all while the business has different needs.

A move to Rimini Street enables IT teams to immediately break away from vendor cycles and redirect resources to more strategic initiatives. Organizations that choose Rimini Street as their trusted support partner are able to optimize IT resources, maximize existing investments, achieve strategic flexibility, fund innovation that supports growth, and more.

How Rimini Street Supports Retailers

Independent, third-party support from Rimini Street helps retailers deliver on innovation priorities by enabling up to 90% total savings gained through operational efficiencies and maximizing the value of current ERP systems and databases. Savings can be used to both address near- and long-term budget challenges and to invest in the digital transformation programs that drive competitive advantage and growth.

Ultra-Responsive and Comprehensive Support Services, Tailored for Enterprise Systems and Business Goals

Many clients initially come to Rimini Street for enterprise software support because they are looking for a new solution to traditional support that enables them to gain more control over their IT budget and roadmap, plus achieve more flexibility for their business.

Rimini Street offerings then scale to include application and database services beyond retail enterprise software support to drive greater optimization and better business outcomes. Because Rimini Street is an independent support provider, clients receive services aligned to their best interest, not a software vendor's.
